For Immediate Release:

The Hudson River Cleanup Society is hosting it's fifth annual Hudson River Bike Path Clean-up Day on Saturday, October 25, 2009, at 10:00 a.m. at 300 W. 50th Avenue, Long Island City, NY. The event will feature guest speakers including your Congresswoman, Carolyn Maloney and other local leaders.

Description of the event, along with organization's name, date, where to meet, along with any enticements to participate, such as prizes or food, drink or music

"This bike path that stretches along the mighty Hudson River from Wall Street to the East River is one of the most beautiful outdoor parks in New York City. We all need to pitch in to keep it that way," says Mr. Green, of the Sierra club who has been participating in cleanups throughout the city for over twenty years.

EVENT DETAILS: A Prize for the Strangest Item of Garbage

Last year over 300 volunteers from the community cleaned up over 900 pounds of garbage – including some strange stuff. There will be a prize for whoever collects the most – and another for the strangest single item retrieved. Last year's prize went to the person who found a chandalier!

Volunteers will be treated to bagels and beverages in the morning and a barbeque after the cleanup.

"In tight budget times, the city can't do it all," Mr. Green adds. "Citizens must lend a hand if we are all to enjoy a refuge of nature within the city."

If there will be guest speakers or local leader participating, mention them along with a quote showing their involvement

This event will take place on May 15, 2009, from 10-2 pm, rain or shine. Volunteer
